Leading Change

How Self-Aware Leaders Thrive in an Uncertain World

Winston Churchill once said, “To improve is to change, and to be perfect is to change often.” Unfortunately, business leaders who are struggling to keep up with the pace of change often feel far from perfect. They know (and researchers agree) that their approach can either create an exciting new reality or doom the effort completely.

Organizational psychologist Dr. Tasha Eurich reveals the secrets to successfully leading change in our ever-changing world.

Through counterintuitive research findings and the stories of real people and companies, audiences will learn how self-aware leaders successfully drive lasting change. They won’t just leave with a few new tools and approaches, but a newfound sense of confidence to make change happen.

In this entertaining and interactive keynote based on her book, INSIGHT, participants will discover:

1. An understanding of the behaviors of successful change leadership.
2. An understanding of their personal preferences around leading change.
3. A step-by-step process to successfully implement change and a few tools to start using right away.
